

We should all make, 'Litter isn't welcome here' our motto

about our environment. That concern must be now. Much damage has already been done; some irreversible.

But like charity environmental action begins at home. Take a look at our village, streets and countryside. That inexcusable litter of fast food containers, pop cans, broken glass bottles, wrappers, flyers, newspapers and plastic bags can't be blamed on government neglect or some multi national company. We "ordinary people," especially young people, are to blame. We thoughtlessly, carelessly and sometimes even purposely do the littering. Many plazas, including Nobleton's, provide separate containers for recyclables and garbage. However, more often than not, if the litter isn't tossed on the pavement, recyclable material is dumped in with garbage or vice versa.

In European towns and cities, such as Belfast, Paris and Rome, there is much less litter than here. Conscientious, every day citizens make the difference. Its crunch time. Let's smarten up and instill in ourselves and our kids the importance of stopping the litter.

"Litter isn't welcome here" could be our motto.

Learn about stewardship on moraine

Landowners in the area are invited to an evening of short presentations and information on stewardship on the Oak Ridges Moraine.

Organized by the Caring for the Moraine project: Western Headwaters Area, the event will take place Feb. 22 at Schomberg Community and Agricultural Arena.

Highlights will include comments from local Oak Ridges Moraine landowners, who will offer insight into their experiences on practicing stewardship on their properties.

The meeting will also offer an opportunity to learn more about the various stewardship programs and services offered by the many organizations participating in the Caring for the Moraine project. Technical advice will be available on subjects such as wetlands, forestry, streams, and legal options to protect the natural features of your property.

Presentations begin at 7 p.m., with opportunities for discussion with partner organizations before and after. Doors open at 6 p.m. All are welcome.

For information, call York Environmental Stewardship Coordinator Brian Peterkin at (905) 713-7732 or Caring for the Moraine Project Coordinator Kate Potter at (905) 579-0411, Ext. 106.
